

Dúchas

Friday
November 11
1pm -2pm

Bailey Allen Hall,
Áras na MacLéinn

Ronan Browne, Sean Tyrrell, Róisín Elsafty, Cindy Cummings, Tommy Hayes

Ronan Browne

A compulsive serial collaborator, Ronan enjoys throwing himself headlong into interesting new projects. He sees his musical instruments more as tools than ends in themselves.

Cindy Cummings

Choreographer, performer and improviser, Cindy's work is an adventurous mix of contemporary and traditional dance techniques from around the world, performed in a diverse range of mediums and settings.

Róisín Elsafty

From sparkling songs to old laments Róisín performs evocative unaccompanied songs in her florid Conamara style. Her hugely engaging performances are remembered warmly long after you part company.

Sean Tyrrell

Sean Tyrrell is one of the most intensely moving, soulful and talented singers of ballads and traditional songs in Ireland today. Using an array of instruments, Seán weaves effortlessly between narrative, instrumental and song.

Tommy Hayes

Percussionist, bodhrán player and composer, Tommy Hayes was a member of influential bands Stockton's Wing, Puck Fair, Altan and Riverdance. Tommy now divides his time between his effervescent performances and working as a Music Therapist.

The coming together of these five musical minds with their deep fascination, love and respect for that past which created our present, makes for a warm, informative and joyous lunch time entertainment.

