IMPORTANT NOTES

1. Linguistic competence

The attention of students is drawn to the Special Regulation of the College of Arts which stipulates that: "No candidate shall be deemed to have passed an examination in a language who does not satisfy the Examiners as to his/her linguistic competence." Attention is drawn therefore to the importance of providing evidence in examinations of linguistic competence.

In addition to 1BA, in 2BA and 3/4BA attention is drawn to the importance of providing evidence in examinations of linguistic competence, particularly with regard to achieving a satisfactory standard in both Written Language (Thème, Version, Expression écrite) and in Oral Language, and to the importance of regular attendance at written language, TD, laboratory and other classes.

2. Medical certificates in cases of ill-health

When a candidate's ill-health may have affected subsequent performance adversely during the academic year and prior to or during examinations, it is of considerable importance that proper medical certification of the condition will have been provided to the discipline at the time of the occurrence.

3. Submission of essays

All essays must be submitted by the date due, which will be confirmed when the title is set. Extensions may be granted in exceptional circumstances after consultation with the course lecturer.

- Essays submitted after the due date which have not been granted an extension IN ADVANCE will have their mark automatically reduced by 2% per day (including days of the weekend) for 14 days from the deadline.
- Essays for which no extension has been granted and which are submitted more than 14 days after the deadline will receive a mark of 0%.

Prior to submission, students must ensure that they have kept a second copy (printout or photocopy) of their essay for their records.

4. Allocation of Marks in French (Arts)

Final Arts	TOTAL = 30 ECTS	%	ECTS
	Language, continuous assessment, oral	33	10
	Literature & Culture S. I	33	10
	Literature & Culture S. II	33	10

5. Calculation of final degree results

Your final degree result will be based on the marks you get in second year and final year combined, with second year carrying a weight of 30% to your overall degree result. You can find out more about this and many other university rules by consulting NUI Galway's Undergraduate Marks and Standards document, available on the NUI Galway website.

Final Year

Entry requirements: A pass in Second Arts French or its equivalent in the case of visiting and exchange students. Students registered for the BA (International) must also have attained a satisfactory academic performance during their year abroad.

Oral Examinations: These take place during the visit of the Extern Examiner, usually in the last week in May or first week in June; however in 2021 the date of the oral examination is likely to be later - probably mid to late June. Candidates are required to be available during this period. The exact date of the examination is normally made known in March.

FR379: French Language 6 (compulsory)

Semester: 1&2

Contact hours weekly: 3

ECTS: 10

Lecturers: Prof. P. Dine (Coordinator), Dr. E. Ó Cofaigh, Dr. Marie Blom, Ms. Sylvie Mossay and 1 Language assistant.

Course description: This course aims to expand the student's skills in writing accurate French, to help her/him to differentiate between familiar and literary usage and to increase her/his knowledge and control of French Grammar. The course consolidates the language studies of Second Year/Year Abroad. Active command of the language is promoted through regular exercises in the written language, while translation exercises and aural comprehension practice are used to develop receptive skills. Students are trained to attain a reasonable level of oral fluency and accuracy and to be able to discuss ideas comfortably in French. The class is split into groups for written language classes.

Teaching and learning methods: Students are encouraged to become more autonomous in their language acquisition by means of acquiring translation skills and general written and oral expression skills. A variety of text types and topics is used, focusing on grammar difficulties, vocabulary precision and exploring specific communicative situations.

Methods of assessment and examination: Continuous assessment throughout the year, oral and aural assessment, a two-hour written examination at the end of Semester II as well as an oral examination.

Core text: Roger Hawkins and Richard Towell, French Grammar and Usage, 2nd edition (London: Arnold, 2001); plus in-house selection of language passages. Oxford-Hachette French-English bilingual dictionary. (Please note that a substantial unilingual French dictionary is strongly recommended in final year).

Fraincis trí Ghaeilge: Tá rang roghnach ar fáil do mhic léinn ar mhian leo an teanga a dhéanamh trí mheán na Gaeilge.

FR371: French Literature and Culture 7	Semester I	No. of ECTS: 5
---	-------------------	-----------------------

Within the above obligatory module, students must take as follows:

OBLIGATORY :
Reading History as Literature	PLUS	Alterity in Literature for Young Adults

All students take two equally weighted sub-modules: READING HISTORY AS LITERATURE (compulsory) and ALTERITY IN LITERATURE FOR YOUNG ADULTS (compulsory).

Course descriptions for the above modules follow. Please note the language of instruction is French.

Reading History as Literature (compulsory)

Semester: 1

Contact hours: 12 Lectures and 6 Tutorials

Lecturer: Dr. C. Emerson

Course description: All too often literature is contrasted with history on the grounds that, while the first is subjective, the second is objective, providing an unproblematic record of events as they happened. This course seeks to throw critical light on this assumption, taking a work of nineteenth-century narrative history as a starting point. Using modern theories of history writing, the course will examine how history is presented and explain the reasons behind this presentation.

Teaching and learning methods: Lectures, tutorials and seminars.

Methods of assessment and examination: in-house assessment (project).

Core text: Jules Michelet, Jeanne d'Arc et autres textes, ed. Paul Viallaneix, published by Folio, ISBN: 9-782070-364411 or eversion of the same book, provided in Blackboard.

Alterity in Literature for Young Adults (compulsory)

Semester: 1 Contact hours: 12 Lectures and 6 Tutorials

Lecturer: Dr. C. Dupuy

Course description: The weekly lectures will deliver the theoretical component of this course, which will be complemented by tutorials in which extracts of the works mentioned in the lectures will be analysed in depth. The course focuses on the Francophone literature of the last 30 years written for young adults, highlighting in particular the politics and poetics of the representation of the Other in recent works aimed at a young audience. The selected works for discussion focus on a spectrum of contemporary social issues. Students will be asked to appraise each text individually and also to gain a deeper appreciation of the breadth and richness of Francophone ‘littérature pour la jeunesse’ of the last 30 years through comparative analysis.

Teaching and learning methods: Lectures & Tutorials.

Methods of assessment and examination: in-house assessment.

Core texts: in-house anthology.

FR3100: FRENCH LITERATURE & CULTURE 11	Semester I	No. of ECTS: 5
---	-------------------	-----------------------

Within the above obligatory module, students must take as follows:

OBLIGATORY :
To be taken by all students:
French Media & Information	PLUS	French Retreat from Empire

All students take two equally weighted sub-modules: FRENCH MEDIA & INFORMATION (compulsory) and FRENCH RETREAT FROM EMPIRE (compulsory).

Course descriptions for the above modules follow. Please note the language of instruction is French.

Contact hours: 24 Lectures and 12 Tutorials

Lecturers: Prof. P. Dine, Dr Maura Stewart

Teaching and learning methods: Lectures & Tutorials.

Methods of assessment and examination: one hour written examination.

Part 1: French Media & Information (compulsory)

Semester: 1

Contact hours: 12 Lectures and 6 Tutorials

Lecturer: Dr. M. Stewart

Course description: This course aims to examine the changing forms of communication in France and their impact on the dissemination of information. The course traces the development of the digital news media in recent years, highlights the impact of this evolution on journalism, and probes the relationship between the media and the political sphere. With the aid of case studies, students will have the opportunity to explore French media coverage of major events.

Teaching and learning methods: Lectures & Tutorials.

Methods of assessment and examination: one hour written examination.

Core texts: Texts to be supplied by lecturer.

Part 2: French Retreat from Empire (compulsory) studies the reflection in French writing and cinema of the country's uniquely traumatic experience of decolonization in the period following the Second World War. Students will consider the place of the individual in French society and in the French-speaking world. There will be a focus on the construction, performance and interrogation of identity, together with the relationship between France and other French-speaking countries and regions. On completion of part 2 students should have come to understand the historical specificity of the French retreat from overseas empire, and in so doing should have developed their analytical, critical and linguistic skills.

Core texts: Henri Alleg, La Question (Paris, Minuit, 1958); Didier Daeninckx, Meurtres pour mémoire, (Paris, Gallimard, 1984).

Core films: Pierre Schoendoerffer 1965, La 317e Section; Gillo Pontecorvo 1965, La Bataille d'Alger.

FR380: French and Francophone Studies 11	Semester II	No. of ECTS: 5
---	--------------------	-----------------------

Within the above obligatory module, students must take as follows:

OBLIGATORY :
To be taken by all students:
French Cinema	PLUS	Sport & Identity

All students take two equally weighted sub-modules: FRENCH CINEMA (compulsory) and SPORT & IDENTITY(compulsory).

Course descriptions for the above modules follow. Please note the language of instruction is French.

French Cinema (compulsory)

Semester: 2

Contact hours: 12 lectures and 6 tutorials

Lecturers: Dr. E. Ó Cofaigh

Course Description: FRENCH CINEMA explores French society through the lens of French cinema. This module will examine the genre from its early days while also covering the Nouvelle Vague and finishing with some more contemporary studies. The historical characteristics and significance of each era will be explored with a view to providing a commentary on evolving 20th Century French society.

Core films: Un chien andalou; L'Atalante; La règle du jeu; Hiroshima mon amour; Cet obscur objet du désir.

French Sport & Identity (compulsory)

Semester: 2

Contact hours: 12 lectures and 6 tutorials

Lecturers: Prof. P. Dine

Course Description: This sub-module explores the history and sociology of mass leisure practices in France, with particular reference to sport and the construction of local, regional and national identities. It considers the rise of modern games in response to changes in patterns of population and employment, and examines the development of sport as a significant market for various business interests, the popular press and the audio-visual media.

Teaching and learning methods: Lectures & tutorials.

Methods of assessment and examination: In-class examination.

Core text: Thierry Terret, Histoire du sport (Paris, PUF, collection 'Que sais-je ?', 2011). ISBN-13: 978-2130592099.

FR366: French & Francophone Studies 10	Semester II	No. of ECTS: 5
---	--------------------	-----------------------

Within the above obligatory module, students must take as follows:

OBLIGATORY :
20th Century French Novel	PLUS	Language & Identity in Medieval France

All students take two equally weighted sub-modules: 20TH-CENTURY FRENCH NOVEL (compulsory) AND LANGUAGE & IDENTITY IN MEDIEVAL FRANCE (compulsory).

Course descriptions for the above modules follow. The language of instruction is French.

Twentieth-Century French Novel (compulsory)

Semester: 2

Contact hours: 12 lectures and 6 Tutorials Lecturer: Dr. M.A Ní Mhainnín

Course description: Twentieth-century French prose deals, among other things, with matters relating to personal identity and family relationships. Annie Ernaux (b.1940) is also both author and character in her novel La Place (1983), which examines the father-daughter relationship and contrasts the difference between their modest small-town background and the intellectual and literary success of the author.

Teaching & learning methods: Lectures & tutorials. Methods of assessment: 1-hour written exam.

Core text: Annie Ernaux, La Place. Amélie Nothomb, Stupeur et Tremblements.

Language and Identity in Medieval France (Compulsory)

Semester: 2

Contact hours: 12

Lecturers: Dr. C. Emerson

Course description: This course will introduce students to Middle French, through a series of translation projects focussing on the short texts of the Burgundian Cent Nouvelles nouvelles. The same motifs recur in texts apparently told by different narrators, raising questions of authorship, of the identity of the collection, as well as of register and high and low status literature. Were the readers of romances also reading stories about sexually promiscuous clergymen? Were the writers of sermons also writing stories about beautiful wives outsmarting jealous husbands? What does this under-appreciated collection of mainly obscene stories tell us about medieval society and its literature?

Core text: Sweetser, Franklin P. (ed.) 1996, Les Cent Nouvelles nouvelles, Droz Geneva [ISBN: 2600001824] or [online edition] Pierre Champion (ed.), Les Cent Nouvelles nouvelles, (1928, reprint 1977) <http://gallica.bnf.fr/ark:/12148/bpt6k22159s>

Teaching and learning methods: lectures and language classes, translation project. The language of instruction and examination in this course is English.

Method of assessment: 1-hour written examination.
