STUDY LAW AT NUI GALWAY

EXPERIENCED STAFF

Our academic staff are nationally and internationally recognised experts in their fields and many are also industry experienced. Their invaluable knowledge and experience gives students a unique learning experience, ensuring that they develop the skills necessary to put theory into practice.

The School of Law is also a centre of excellence in research with our internationally recognised research centres. Our students have access to academics who lead research projects and influence national and international policy making.

SKILLS

Skills-based modules are an essential part of our degree, equipping students with both the academic and practical skills required for successful careers and for life. Our academics work with students to develop competencies including, logical and critical thinking, communication and advocacy skills, project management skills and the ability to construct complex legal arguments. NUI Galway law students become highly skilled, employable graduates confident to progress to professional qualification and to pursue a range of other careers locally, nationally and globally.

Development of skills is advanced every year of the degree:

Year 1:
Communication & Advocacy through Mooting

Year 2:
Foundational Teaching (legal research, critical thinking)

Year 3:
Work Placement or Study Abroad

Year 4:
Specialisation & Guided Research Essay

“Studying law at NUI Galway afforded me the opportunity to delve deep into the law, and initially focus on a wide range of subjects. I studied the foundations of law and formed a great understanding of the core principles and subjects that are a pre-requisite for any future career in law and have stood me in good stead. To this day, The School of Law now provides Clinical Legal Education Opportunities, enabling students to undergo invaluable practical experience of working in various careers in law and this opportunity should be encouraged and availed of.”

FERDIA BREATNACH
Barrister-at-Law, BCL Graduate

CAREER FOCUS

Our careers and employment team provide quality career guidance to help students gain clarity, connect with employers and compete for the best jobs.

CLARITY in your career journey through:
- ONE-TO-ONE CAREER GUIDANCE
- CAREER SEMINARS AND EVENTS
- PSYCHOMETRIC TESTING
- DROP-IN SESSIONS

CONNECT with prospective employers through:
- JOBS FAIRS AND EMPLOYER EVENTS
- JOBS VACANCY SYSTEM

COMPETE in the jobs market through:
- CV & INTERVIEW SKILLS WORKSHOPS
- JOB APPLICATION REVIEW

GUEST LECTURES FROM EXPERTS

Our close links to the legal profession and industry mean we regularly host guest lecturers with leading expertise in law, the legal profession, human rights, disability, business and beyond. Guest lecturers give students insight into current trends in law and society, and inform their future career choices.

A ROUNDED STUDENT EXPERIENCE

Beyond the lecture hall, there is a wide variety of extra-curricular activities with over 100 student societies, including a very vibrant student Law Society, excellent sports facilities and clubs, volunteering through the ALIVE programme, and the community knowledge initiative. The University also offers a range of supports for students and scholarships such as the Excellence Scholarships, Sports Scholarships and the inclusive Centenaries Scholarship Scheme.

WORK PLACEMENT

Our Law programmes aim to position students with the skills and graduate attributes needed for employment post-graduation. As part of undergraduate Law degrees, we are continuing to partner with leading global, national and local firms to support student development and work placement.

NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL INTERNSHIPS

Our students are in a unique position to apply for a limited number of high profile legal internships, national and international. Our school has established links with a number of prestigious organisations that offer summer internship opportunities.

- Irish Superior Courts
- The Office of the Attorney General
- The Office of the Director of Public Prosecutions
- Massachusetts appellate courts (USA)
- Massachusetts Office of the Secretary of State (USA)
- Suffolk County District Attorney’s office (USA)
- RTE, Legal Research Assistant
INNOVATIVE APPROACH

OUR PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

Our programmes are designed to maximise student potential by providing a balance of foundational law modules, critical legal skills, and a specialism in different subject areas. Students also have the opportunity to either study abroad or to avail of professional work placement. Throughout the degree, students will develop a comparative understanding of the law and an appreciation of law in practice. Students will become highly skilled, employable graduates able to progress to professional qualification and to pursue a range of other careers locally, nationally and globally. Our law programmes incorporate the modules examined at the Incorporated Law Society of Ireland entrance examinations (barrister qualification).

FOUNDATIONAL TEACHING

NUI Galway is driving innovation in the teaching of law through the concentration of skills at every stage of our degree programmes. The key to this approach is strong foundational teaching. Our module, Understanding the Law, allows students to explore the foundation structures and operations of the Irish legal system while introducing students to the basic skills of case analysis, statutory interpretation, legal citation and writing, and developing capacities for independent research and writing. The module is delivered through a taught component made up of lectures and an active component where students will participate in practical seminars and a mock trial. Students will be required to work with fellow students in small groups to research and prepare arguments for presentation, and to develop written legal submissions and oral arguments. The final moot court competitions take place in the Galway Courthouse and are presided over by a sitting member of the Irish judiciary.

MOOTING

Mooting is a simulated courtroom experience. Using a hypothetical set of case facts, students learn how to identify legal issues, construct a legal argument, draft legal submissions, and effectively deliver oral arguments. All students will participate in moot exercises. Past students described participating in mooting as transformative. The module is delivered through a taught component made up of lectures and an active component where students will participate in practical seminars and a mock trial. Students will be required to work with fellow students in small groups to research and prepare arguments for presentation, and to develop written legal submissions and oral arguments. The final moot court competitions take place in the Galway Courthouse and are presided over by a sitting member of the Irish judiciary.

PROFESSIONAL WORK PLACEMENT

Our students will have the opportunity to gain a professional focus and real world experience through work placement. Students gain invaluable experience by putting theory into practice and developing new skills which can support and influence career direction. We are committed to providing high quality work placements with nationally and internationally recognised law firms and organisations.

STUDY ABROAD

We offer exciting study-abroad opportunities through ERASMUS and International Exchange. Students that choose a language stream are encouraged to avail of the study abroad opportunity to elevate their linguistic skills by studying in a partnering university that teaches through that language. We have also partnered with a number of leading universities who teach through English in Germany, Spain, France, Italy, Netherlands, Hungary, the United States, China, Australia and Canada. Studying abroad gives students the prospect to further broaden their studies in an equivalent world class university. It also provides the opportunity for improved language skills, an appreciation of other cultures and the development of different perspectives on law.

GUIDED RESEARCH ESSAY

The capacity to write long-form research essays is a signature ability of graduates, and is a key skill for practising lawyers. As part of our degrees, students will complete a Guided Research Essay supported by an academic mentor. Students will greatly benefit from the guidance and supervision of an assigned academic mentor who will meet with them to discuss their research essay and provide feedback on their work.

SELECT A SPECIALISM

On return from professional work placement or study abroad, students will be ready to focus on the final year of their degree. This year is structured into specialised streams which align our wide variety of modules into related groupings or specialisms. This allows students to shape their degree and focus on an area of study that interests them and develop special expertise in their chosen field.
Law (BCL)

Students on placement will see the education with practical experience. Throughout the programme there is the opportunity for students to engage in a professional work placement in a leading law firm, or other suitable placement in a sector organisation or other suitable placement in a sector organisation. Students who study language modules are encouraged to avail of the study abroad opportunity to improve linguistic skills.

Why choose the Law (BCL) programme?
- Students can focus their studies on the law to maximise their understanding of the legal process.
- Students can tailor this degree to particular areas of law that interest them.
- Students who wish to qualify professionally as a solicitor or barrister will have completed the modules required by the Law Society of Ireland and the Honorable Society of King's Inns.
- Throughout the programme there is an emphasis on acquiring the fundamental practical skills required of lawyers – legal research, writing, oral presentation and advocacy.

Work Placement
- Students will have the opportunity to engage in a professional work placement in a leading law firm, a corporate organisation, a public sector organisation or other suitable legal placement.
- Students on placement will see the law being applied in action, thereby supplementing their academic legal education with practical experience.

In advance of Professional Work Placement, law students receive one-to-one CV preparation advice, along with interview support and coaching.

Work placement partners include: Matheson, A & G, Goodbody, Arthur Cox, LK Shields, the Central Bank of Ireland, the Department of Justice and Equality, Berwick Solicitors, Horan & Son Solicitors, Bell & Carroll Solicitors, RG Emerson Solicitors, Michael Houlihan & Partners and Catherine Murphy & Co. Solicitors.

Study Abroad
- Students can study abroad at partner institutions around the world, giving them the opportunity to experience legal education in an international setting and to gain a different perspective on the law.
- Depending on the partnering institute, modules are taught through English, French or German. Students can study both law and non-law modules.
- Students who study language modules are encouraged to avail of the study abroad opportunity to improve linguistic skills.

We have established study abroad links/ partners in the following countries: Australia, Belgium, Canada, China, France, Germany, Hungary, Poland, The Netherlands, Spain, United States of America.

CAREERS PROSPECTS
- Graduates of the Law (BCL) programme will be well equipped to succeed in professional studies at either the Law Society of Ireland (solicitor) or the Honorable Society of King’s Inns (barrister).
- This degree will also provide an excellent platform for graduates interested in working outside of the professions.

- As more and more areas of life are legally regulated, the comprehensive grounding in the law and the legal process that graduates receive during this degree will make them attractive to a wide range of potential employers in financial services, consultancy, industry and the public sector.

Legal Skills Modules

Optional Modules

Final Year - Specialist Streams

Business and Commercial Law
This stream focuses on law specifically in a business context. It is targeted at students with a particular interest in the legal aspects of business. Students taking this stream will take commercial law subjects with a view to preparing them to work in a commercial legal environment. This stream will be of particular benefit to students who are interested in seeking apprenticeships with large commercial law firms.

Human Rights, Crime and Equality
Students on this stream will focus on the manner in which the state and/or international government bodies deal with individuals. Many of the modules on offer will focus on how the coercive power of these bodies may be levied and controlled, while others focus on how the power of the state and international government bodies can be invoked to improve the position of marginalised sections of the community. Module content is targeted at students interested in working in the fields of criminal law and human rights.

International, Comparative and Transnational Law
Students interested in working in an international legal environment should take this stream. Some of the modules will allow students to learn about the laws that regulate how countries deal with each other, while others consider how different countries approach similar legal issues. Still other modules focus on how best to deal with legal issues that cross international frontiers.

Language
This stream allows students to take a European language to degree level. In addition to pure language classes, students on this stream will also learn about culture, laws and politics of the country in question. This stream is aimed at students who are thinking of working in a legal environment in continental Europe. Study Abroad is highly recommended for students undertaking a language.

Bachelor of Arts (Joint Honours) in Law

Introduction

The BA (Joint-Honours) in Law programme has a long and distinguished history at NUI Galway. This programme allows students the flexibility to combine the study of law with a range of complementary subjects. In first year, students take Law as one of their three humanities subjects and they take two other subjects from the Arts group of subjects.

The BA (Joint-Honours) in Law programme gives students a solid grounding in law while also providing them with a well-rounded education. There is a wide variety of subjects to choose from. Furthermore, those who wish to qualify as a solicitor or barrister may proceed into the final year of the LLB programme. Upon graduation from the LLB programme students can pursue professional legal training as a solicitor (with the Law Society of Ireland) or as a barrister (with the Honorable Society of King’s Inns).

Career prospects

Not all law graduates choose to practice as solicitors or barristers. Many graduates decide to pursue careers outside legal practice. Law graduates acquire knowledge and skills through their programme that ensure that they are highly employable in many sectors.

BA (Joint-Honours) graduates may choose to work in the public sector (Government Departments, Local Government, the Law Reform Commission, Office of the Director of Public Prosecutions, the Courts Service, Office of the Attorney General, the Oireachtas etc).

Other graduates may opt for graduate training programmes or for careers in accountancy, banking, taxation, insurance, compliance or with institutions such as the United Nations, the Councils of Europe, the European Commission, the Court of Justice of the European Union or the European Court of Human Rights.

International links

At the end of second year, interested students may opt to spend their third year studying at a university in mainland Europe or other countries such as the USA, Canada, Australia or China. These students then return to complete their programme in Galway in their fourth year.

Other related degrees

Students on the BA (Joint-Honours) Degree who take Law as one of their three subjects in first year, can progress with Law as one of their two subjects to degree level, if they successfully pass all of their subjects in the first sitting exams in first year and are among the top 100 students in Law in first year.

Other related degrees with law components

Bachelor of Commerce – Law stream

Graduates of this degree can be admitted to the postgraduate LLB programme to complete a full law degree. They can be exempt from first year of the programme provided they have completed the required number of law modules. Students should contact the College of Arts, Social Sciences & Celtic Studies for further information.

BA Human Rights

The Bachelor of Arts with Human Rights is an exciting four year degree programme offered by the College of Arts, Social Sciences, and Celtic Studies in conjunction with the Irish Centre for Human Rights. The Irish Centre for Human Rights is recognised as a world leader in human rights teaching, research and advocacy. The programme explores the human rights legal framework, along with the philosophical basis and historical development of human rights. It provides students with both theoretical and practical understanding of how the human rights system works at international, regional and national level. Students will become familiar with key concepts such as human dignity, equality and non-discrimination. The programme also covers the role of different actors in the promotion and protection of human rights, including the human rights work undertaken by the United Nations, Non-Governmental Organisations (NGOs), and Regional and National systems. Students should contact the Irish Centre for Human Rights for further information.
WHAT OUR RECENT GRADUATES SAY...

“I chose to study a BA (Joint Honours) in Law followed by the Bachelor of Laws (LL.B) because of the professional, engaged and approachable lecturing staff in NUI Galway. The best part of the LL.B was getting the opportunity to take the Moot Court module which involved advocating in front of a judge of the High Court in the Galway Courthouse. This motivated and empowered me to pursue a career as a solicitor. Overall, the BA (Joint Honours) and the LL.B gave me the knowledge and skills necessary for a legal career.”

AMANDA WOLF
BA (Joint Honours) Law, Bachelor of Laws (LL.B)

“'The Law BCL (Bachelor of Civil Law) offers a wide range of module choice, including all core areas of law, and incorporated academic learning, problem solving and practical opportunities. It enabled me to be an inquisitive and well-rounded law graduate. Lecturers and tutors provided detailed classes and tutorials providing in-depth theoretical knowledge. I gained practical experience through the placement option. There was also a strong focus on legal research each year which is crucial regardless of what career path you choose.”

CHIARA QUONDAMATTEO
Law (BCL)

“I was interested in the areas of law that focused on world business, markets and commerce. The Bachelor of Corporate Law (now known as Law & Business) offered me the unique opportunity to study a combination of a language, business and law. It gave me the ability to tailor my degree to fit my areas of interest through the wide range of module choice. Throughout the course, there is a focus on independent, creative and critical thinking. Graduates have the advantage of understanding how the law interacts with the world around us in a business context. I would encourage students to make the most of NUI Galway and the amazing city of Galway.”
